FIT5552 Minor thesis part 2 - Semester 2, 2011

This unit is a research/thesis unit for FIT Masters (Honours) degrees, taken in the final stage of the Masters (Honours) course.

Before enrolling in the unit, students need to have reached agreement with a potential supervisor about a research area/feasible research topic for their Minor Thesis project.

Mode of Delivery

- Caulfield (Day)
- Clayton (Day)
- Gippsland (Day)

Contact Hours

Regular meetings with supervisor(s) over the course of the unit enrolment.

Workload

The workload in this unit is equivalent to a 6 credit point unit, i.e. 12 hours study per week. Contact hours will consist of regular meeting with your supervisor.

Unit Relationships

Prohibitions

FIT5014, FIT5016, FIT5017, FIT5018

Academic Overview

Learning Objectives

At the completion of this unit students will have made substantial and measurable progress towards-
A knowledge and understanding of:

- their research topic and the wider research domain;
- research approaches and methods, and how to resolve research problems and issues;
- well honed skills in critical thinking, analysis, evaluation and synthesis.

Developed attitudes that enable them to:

- have confidence in their ability to undertake independent research, and to plan and execute an individual research project;
- appreciate the significance and contributions of a research culture in both academic and workplace contexts.

Developed the skills to:

- plan and undertake rigorous independent research;
- locate relevant research literature, and critically analyse and evaluate published research findings;
- identify open problems in current research and promising new research directions, and from this to define a viable research topic;
- develop a sound research design and feasible research project plan and schedule;
- communicate effectively research results in a variety of forms, including informal oral presentations, written reports, seminar presentations and poster presentations.

Although research projects are carried out individually, students will be part of a wider research group, with whom they will interact regularly, and participate in research seminars and discussions. At the completion of the unit students will have demonstrated the communication and teamwork skills necessary to:

- communicate research ideas effectively in formal or informal contexts;
- collaborate effectively with others involved in a research project (supervisors, research colleagues, industry collaborators).

Graduate Attributes

Monash prepares its graduates to be:

1. responsible and effective global citizens who:
 - a. engage in an internationalised world
 - b. exhibit cross-cultural competence
 - c. demonstrate ethical values

critical and creative scholars who:

- a. produce innovative solutions to problems

- b. apply research skills to a range of challenges
- c. communicate perceptively and effectively

Assessment Summary

At the completion of the requirements for the thesis the following components of assessment will be completed:

Research Proposal: 5%; Literature Review: 10%; Interim Presentation: hurdle; Final Presentation: 5%; Thesis (normally 10,000 - 20,000 words): 80%

These assessment tasks will be completed over the course of several units in the Minor Thesis program but the overall grade for the thesis will only be finalised on completion of FIT5554 (24pts).

Teaching Approach

Research activities

Students will research an agreed thesis topic under the guidance of their supervisor and will receive feedback on their progress through regular meetings with their supervisor.

Feedback

Our feedback to You

Types of feedback you can expect to receive in this unit are:

- Other: Supervisor meetings and seminar presentations.

Your feedback to Us

Monash is committed to excellence in education and regularly seeks feedback from students, employers and staff. One of the key formal ways students have to provide feedback is through SETU, Student Evaluation of Teacher and Unit. The University's student evaluation policy requires that every unit is evaluated each year. Students are strongly encouraged to complete the surveys. The feedback is anonymous and provides the Faculty with evidence of aspects that students are satisfied and areas for improvement.

For more information on Monash's educational strategy, and on student evaluations, see:

Examinations

Assignment submission

It is a University requirement

(<http://www.policy.monash.edu/policy-bank/academic/education/conduct/plagiarism-procedures.html>) for students to submit an assignment coversheet for each assessment item. Faculty Assignment coversheets can be found at <http://www.infotech.monash.edu.au/resources/student/forms/>. Please check with your Lecturer on the submission method for your assignment coversheet (e.g. attach a file to the online assignment submission, hand-in a hard copy, or use an online quiz).

Extensions and penalties

Submission must be made by the due date otherwise penalties will be enforced.

You must negotiate any extensions formally with your campus unit leader via the in-semester special consideration process:

<http://www.infotech.monash.edu.au/resources/student/equity/special-consideration.html>.

Returning assignments

Students can expect assignments to be returned within two weeks of the submission date or after receipt, whichever is later
